How to cheer up a friend.

There're many situations when your friend gets down. Let's dwell about the ways to cheer up a friend.

I think, firstly, you should ask them why they feel upset and offer them solutions to this problem. It can make them feel more confident. secondly, you should just show that you care about their emotions. Comfort them.

Some days ago my friend got a bad grade and she was very sad about it, so I told her it isn't important. She started feeling better.

I'd like to say in conclusion that a good friend should always care about his/her friend's mood and feelings. - ?
